It was a year like many that had preceded it. Yet, it was unique in several ways. A modified closed campus became the rule and most releases became a thing of the past as students were either in class or study hall. Many didn't realize the changes had taken place and the student body generally came to accept them as "the way it's always been." Increased emphasis was placed on academics with strong remedial programs in such areas as mathematics, reading and writing. Another academic change was the increased emphasis on computers and computer awareness. Students planning to go to college were strongly advised to take the computer courses offered. Teachers got hands-on experience as they worked with the five Apple computers made available to them during the year. Learning in all areas took place, students formed new friendships, they participated in a myriad of activities, emphasis was still on the individual, most knowledge was gained through doing a variety of tasks, and we all ended the year with a stack of memories, some personal, others held in common with our fellow students. This book attempts to Focus On the events of the past year, to help you relive them and savor them once again, remembering both the good and the bad, and gaining knowledge from your experiences.

Junior Class Council

Junior class activities centered around one major event--The Prom. The Prom took lots of hard work and planning, including where to hold the dance, what the theme should be, what band to have, what kind of decorations to provide, the design and printing of invitations, and who should be the official photographer. To raise money for the event the class sponsored a dance, held a car wash, sold candy, keychains, TSH buttons, and Fudge Huts. The officers did their best to get the class involved and spirited.

Sophomores

The Sophomore's prime concern during the year was to make money in preparation for sponsoring next year's Prom. To help them get ready for that major project, they sponsored this year's semi-formal Coronation dance. An innovation of the class officers was a newsletter distributed to all members of the class telling them what the council was doing and what activities were being planned for them.

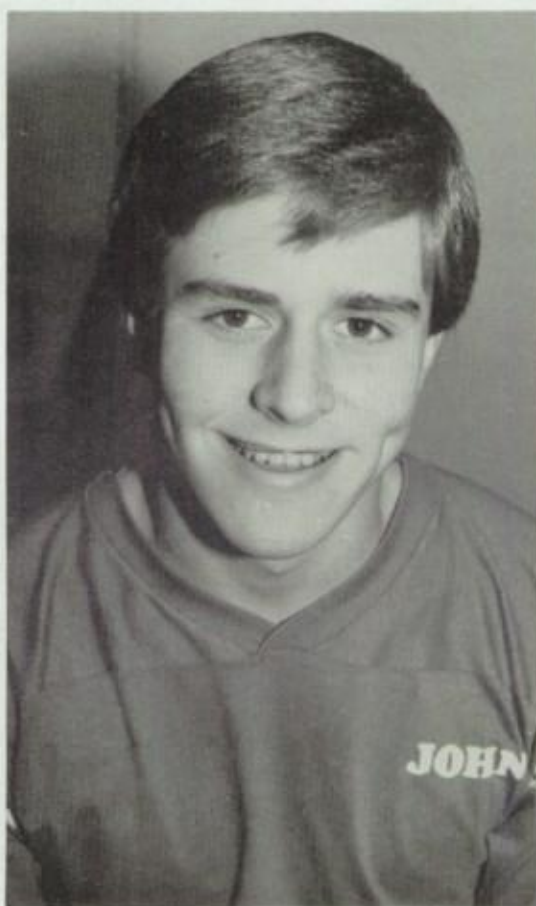

Aurora Balizado was the sophomore class secretary.

Amy Mitchell was the Sophomore class treasure.

Freshmen

The Freshmen class spent their year getting to know one another, organizing and learning the ways of high school life. They sponsored dances and various types of sales to raise money. By the time Spring came around, they felt like veterans and looked forward to next year when they would no longer be on the bottom of the ladder.

ACTIVITIES

Professional Internship Program

Aimed at giving outstanding students a taste of a professions, the Professional Internship program enrolled 18 students, in areas in which they had expressed an interest. Each student worked several hours a week in areas ranging from foreign student counseling to newspaper reporting, from medical technician to work in a medical research laboratory, from law offices to classrooms. Each either strengthened his desire for further study in that field, or, early in his life, learned that he really didn't want to work in that area and changed his career goal.

Plays

Barefoot in the Park, Neil Simon's sophisticated comedy about the trials and tribulations of a newly married couple living in a tenement in New York, was the year's first drama offering. The play was well received by students and faculty. It was somewhat unique in that an unusual number of lower classmen had important roles in the production.

Paul reacts indifferently to Corrie's over reaction to the problem.

Homecoming

Tempe High Homecoming proved to be a festive occasion. Its huge spectacle of events, old and new, sparked excitement and enthusiasm throughout the school.

The night before Homecoming was the traditional bonfire on the JV baseball field to get everyone prepared for an exciting following day.

Homecoming morning at 7 AM a new tradition was started; a breakfast dance was held in the Quad. It was designed to start the day off with a bang and get everyone excited for the day ahead.

During the Pep Rally, all the Homecoming attendants walked in the Homecoming Royalty Walk as the band played.

At halftime all of the Class Floats paraded around the track as the Senior Attendants followed behind in convertible Corvettes.

The Homecoming dance followed the football game in which Tempe beat Saguaro 14 - 6.

Seniors Janee Rollins and Dennis James are announced Homecoming King and Queen at halftime. They were crowned by last year's royalty, Rick Carias and Jenny Sandner.

Sister city

Sister City delegates are chosen from high school juniors who live in Tempe. Selected for their ability to get along with people and to adapt to a new culture, they go to one of Tempe's Sister Cities for a six week visit during the summer, where they live with selected families as family members. The two delegates from Tempe High both visited Regensburg, Germany, while other city high schoolers spent time in Skopje, Yugoslavia. They all returned with a "brother" or "sister" who spent six weeks living with their families, and learning about Arizona and the USA.

Sophomore Amy Mitchell and Marcel Augustine from Regensburg, were "sister" and "brother" in the Sister City program.

Susie Schnieder and Ferdinand Utner from Regensburg, Germany were part of the Sister City program along with Senior Janee Rolli (center).

Boys and Girls State

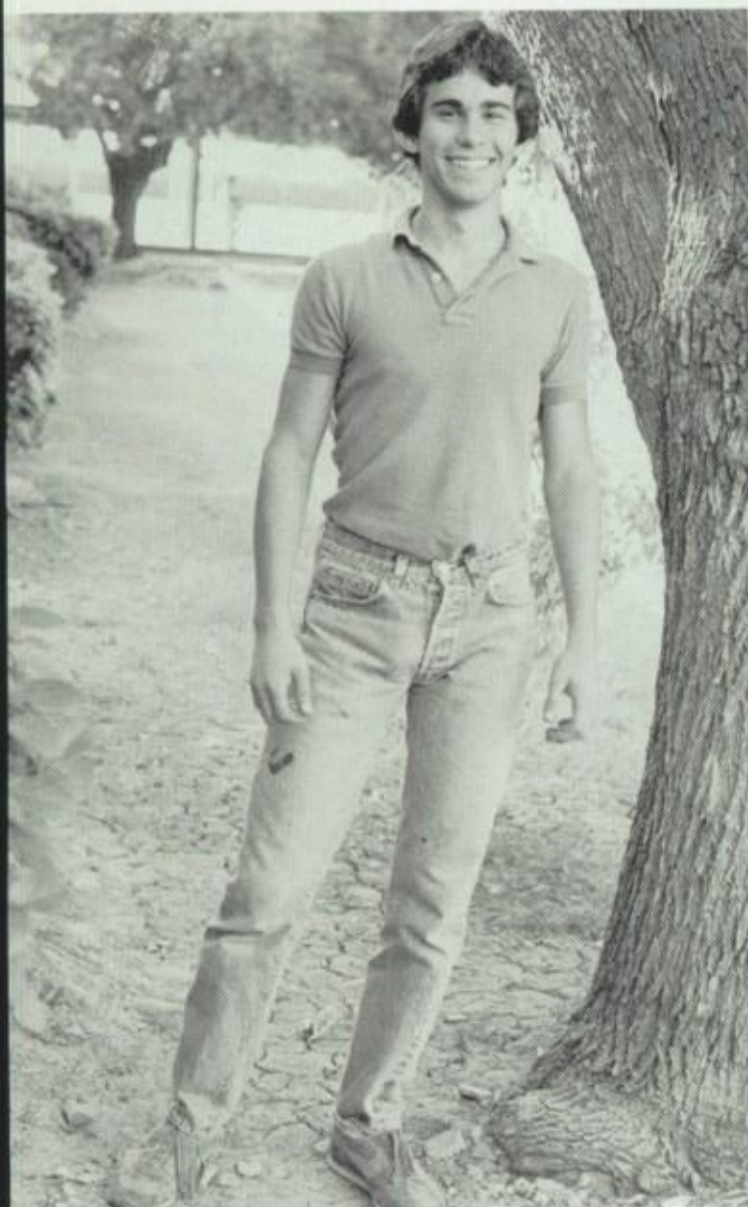

Boys and Girls State is designed to give high school juniors practical experience with the democratic form of government. The boys travel to the University of Arizona, and the girls head for Northern Arizona University, where they meet other delegates from throughout the state and establish miniature governments at all levels. Campaigning takes place and practical politics are learned as legislatures and city councils seek solutions to the myriad of problems faced by such bodies in real life.

Campus Queens

This was the second annual Christmas Dance at which the Mistletoe Queen was crowned. This semi-formal dance was sponsored by the Interact Club. The dance is becoming a tradition at Tempe High.

Each year the Kings Club nominates girls from campus to represent them as their queens. This year they elected four, one for each season.

This year's Mistletoe Queen was Lisa Johnson.

Coronation

The Coronation Ball was held on Saturday, February 5, in a beautifully decorated gym. The dance was the traditional Girl Ask Guy and was semi-formal. The dance's theme was You and I, a song made famous by Eddie Rabbit and Crystal Gayle. Royalty from last year were there to hand the crowns to new Coronation King and Queen, Leland Heywood and Jennifer Hendrickson.

Senior Georgetta Liddle (Sister Boxer), Senior Gee Gee Rogers (Odessa) and Junior Tina Brooks (Sister Moore) discuss a problem in the church.

Donkey Basketball

Donkey Basketball is very much a tradition at Tempe High. "This is about its ninth year," said Agriculture teacher Mr. Deal, who is in charge of rounding up the donkeys. The participants in this sport included FFA girls and FFA boys, the pommies, the cheerleaders and faculty. This year the teams were a mixture of all the groups. Who won? Who knows? Who cares? It was fun!

Sophomore Sharon Hoopes trots off as Coach Curtis Cook tries desperately to get his donkey to move. We bet Coach Cook would like to get his donkey on a wrestling mat.

Mr. Bill Graham stretches across the floor towards the ball as Coach Curtis Cook holds his donkey closely just before taking the ball.

Senior Scott Wallace rides 'em like a cowboy as he nears the basket for two points.

Senior Danielle Coleman sits high on her donkey just before she makes a basket.

ATHLETICS

Varsity Football

The football team did not get off to one of the best of starts, but played with a lot of character and respect. First year coach Glen Alford did a good job going into the season with no more than four returning starters. The team didn't get much help from the senior class with only eleven members of that class out for the team. But underclassmen carried the load well. There were even five sophomores on the Varsity. The team will have a strong lineup next year with 30 returning lettermen.

Juniors Chris Bagnoli (70) and Will Wearne (33) put the crunch on Coronado player, stopping him for a short gain.

Senior Charles Billingsley picks up a fumble and races for the goal line.

Junior Ed Caldwell (84) makes a clutch catch to give the Buffs first down. Senior Henry Batten (43) looks one.

Junior Dennis James heads for the end zone after breaking away from the pack. Dennis was named All Southeast player of the Year.

Sophomore Cody Nesbitt makes an unassisted stop of a hard charging Westwood running back.

Junior Will Wearne tackles a Westwood back for no gain. Will received All League honors.

Junior Jeff Tipton out jumps his opponent to bat the ball down.

Junior Paul Williams extends his arm high in the air to put pressure on the Westwood quarterback.

Sophomore Greg Peralta (41) tackles a Westwood runner while Junior Will Wearne (33) waits to put on the finishing touches.

Junior Eric Lewis (82) takes the end around while Senior Don Belousek (68) and Mike Trejo (69) throw down finishing blocks.

Senior Will Wearne looks down field for someone to run over. Will is known as a very strong runner.

Senior Jerry Hepp shows perfect blocking technique while trying to open holes for his runners.

Senior Mike Trejo prepares to block a McClintok player while running down field.

Senior Dennis James (25) takes off for another fantastic run. James lead the team in rushing and scoring.

Senior Roy Dodd (22) sweeps around the right end as juniors Edrick Caldwell (84) and Doug Akins (72) throw key blocks downfield.

Junior Joe Campbell (89) wraps his man up to stop him for a short gain on the play. Senior Paul Cruz (40) and Junior Eric Lewis (82) dive in to help if needed as sophomore Cody Nesbit (30) decides whether or not to help.

An unknown Buffalo dives for a Maryvale runner stopping him for a loss on the play as sophomore Cody Nesbit (30) comes over to help if needed. Cody was one of many sophomores on the varsity squad this season.

J.V. Football

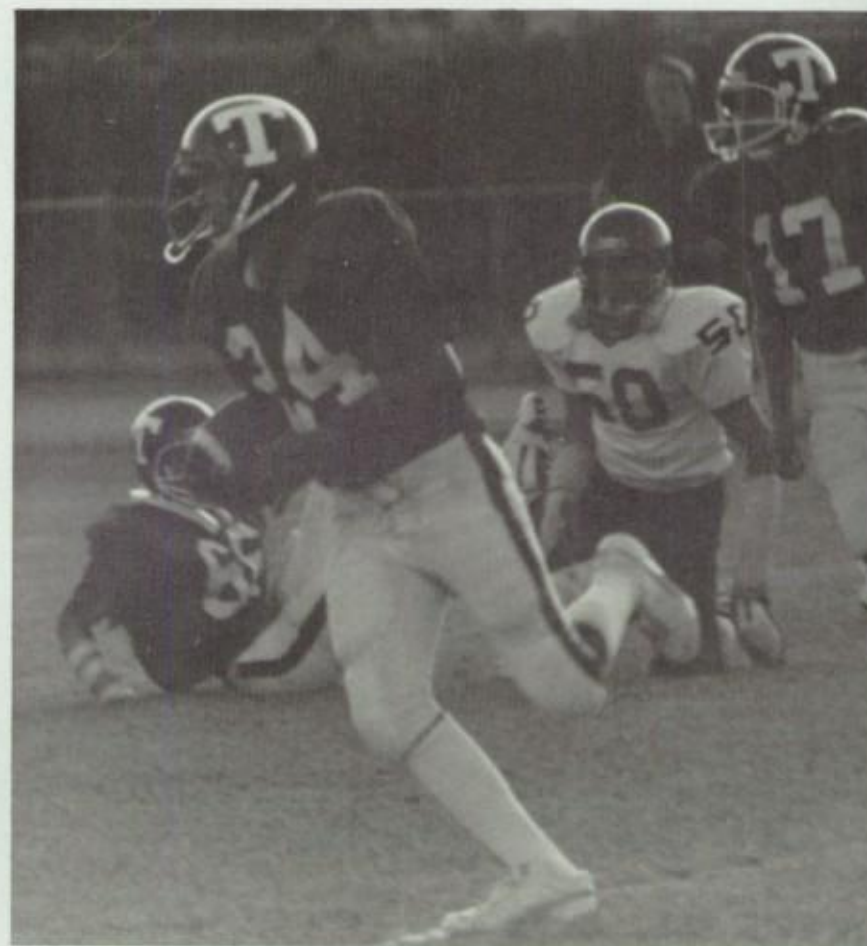

Even though the JV Football team came from a great freshman record of 7 and 1 last season, they lost some top key players to the Varsity Football team. Even though they lost those players, the JV team was a hard fighting bunch, and showed a lot of school spirit in the games.

Fresh Football

The Freshmen Football team wasn't all that good this year. Even though some players had Pop Warner experience, most of the others lacked it. The purpose for the freshmen team is to give the players experience in the game, and build discipline, self respect, and character in a player.

The Freshman defensive line stops a Maryvale player for a short gainer as he tries to turn the corner.

Horizon

For the first time in more than a dozen years, The Horizon staff was large enough to permit two periods a day. Nearly half of the staffers were veterans from last year which helped simplify production problems. The usual problems of too few photographers, seemingly too frequent deadlines, identification of people in photos and the goading of the Advisor kept the staff alert and made it an experience not to be forgotten.

Co-Editor Sandy Strauss was in her third year on the staff.

The Buffalo, Tempe High's student newspaper, began the year with a distinct handicap. There were only five staffers, one of whom was a transfer from another school and therefore not familiar with the way things were done on the THS newspaper. There was also the problem of typesetting all copy and doing the final paste-up, sending the paper to the printer camera-ready. Though the staff had worked with the typesetter last year, most had forgotten the intricacies of running the computer-like machine. With much pain, strain and sweating, the paper did come out an average of once a month, though several deadlines were postponed. At semester, help finally arrived as more than a dozen members of the Basic Journalism class joined the staff. Most issues of the tabloid-sized newspaper were eight pages with a salient issue occupying the center double-page spread. By year's end, all staffers could use the typesetter to some extent, and several had learned how to screen prints, making them camera-ready.

The Boys Varsity Track Team was the City Champion for the third consecutive year, having won the meet by the largest margin since 1977. Team members who were outstanding in both the City Meet and other meets throughout the year were Pat Hanks, Mike Holder, Ed Caldwell, Brian Johnson, Jeff Scow, Randall Greeley and Ruben Neil. The JV Boys Track Team took the City title for the seventh year in a row. Mike Kerr was the high point man in that meet. For the Freshman Team, Elgin Caldwell set records in both the long jump and the high jump.

Girls Track

The Girls Track Team had even fewer athletes than in years past. But, with each girl doing two or more events, with all of them working together as a team, and with each individual putting forth 100%, they were reasonably successful in winning or placing in their meets.

Showing great form as she sails over the high jump bar is Senior Robin Gabelli.

Senior Janee Rollins, who was named one of the Outstanding Senior Girl Athletes of the Year, races onto the floor.

Baseball

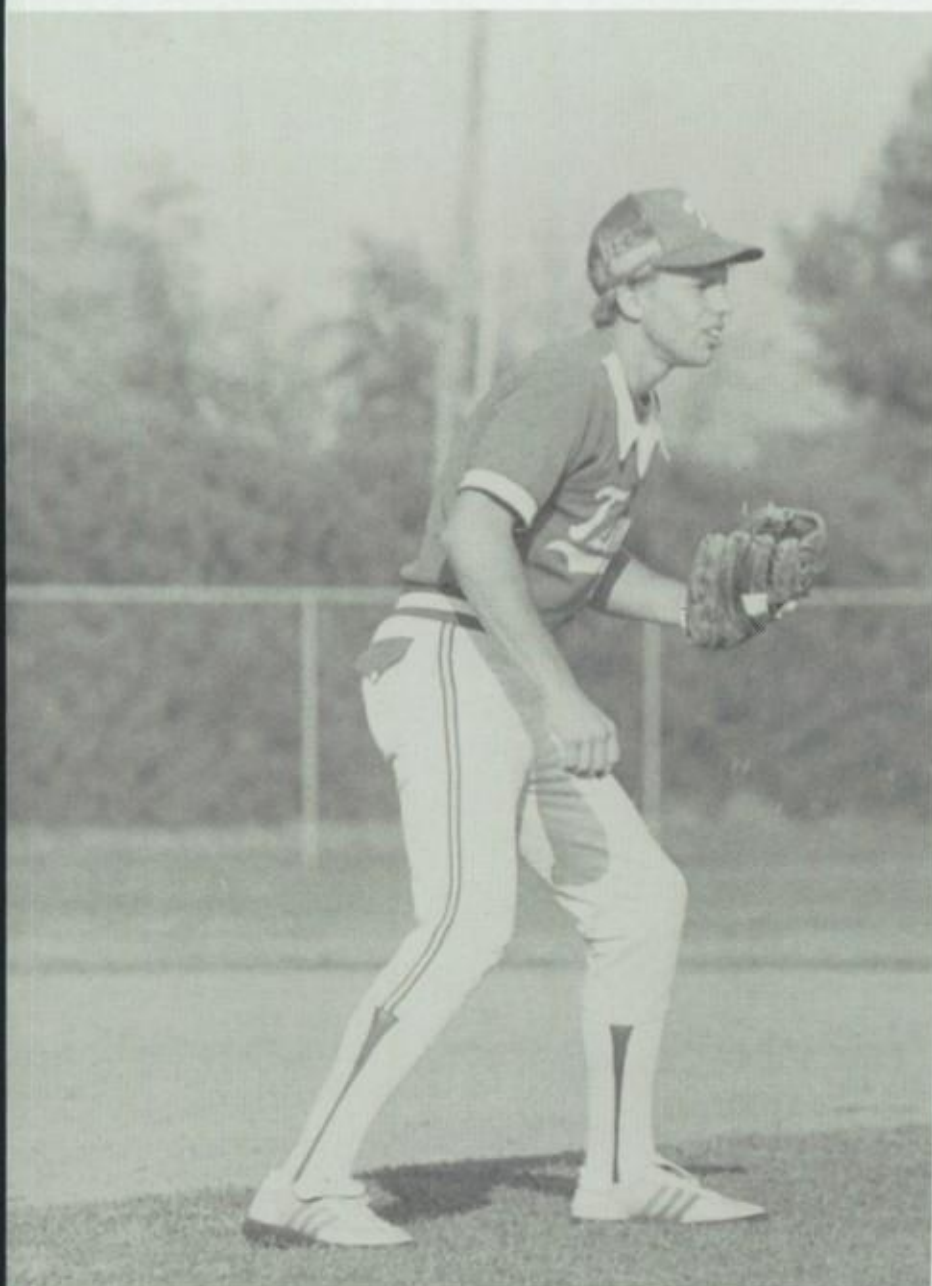

The Varsity Baseball team had a "good season" according to Coach Jim Foster. He said that they could have had a better one if they had all worked according to their abilities. Some seniors were lost from last year who were the team's best hitters which caused a slump in offensive capabilities this year.

Juniors Mike Ybarra, Daniel Aguilar and Coach Jim Foster take a time out to talk strategy in the infield.

Sophomore John Erhardt swings across to lay down a bunt.

Senior Kurt Mueller stands, ready for a hot grounder.

Junior Daniel Aguilar and Senior Rick Maldonado talk about the game they're winning.

year of them' all. Its too bad you'll be leaving soon cause I'll miss your friendship alot. I'll remember some of the bad times, but mostly all the good times. I'm really glad you stayed here in Arizona (blah) because we've gone thru it all together and now we're on top. I know we'll always be friends where ever we are and I will be honored to at your farewell. I'm sorry to say that if I keep writing too much more this

Todo en español.
Ojalá nunca sepas lo
que te voy a escribir.

Quiero que sepas que me diver ti muchísimo contigo. Tienes una personalidad muy agradable. Me caes muy bien. Un día (antes de que te vayas en tu misión) tenemos que salir. Eres muy simpático!

Ojalá tenga una oportunidad de conocerte mejor. Creo que nos llevaríamos muy bien.

Mucha suerte con tu futuro. Portate bien toda tu vida.

Tienes nomás un defecto, eres un poco rasista. Eso es triste. Ojalá hagas algo para correctarlo. Todos somos iguales. Recuerda eso.

Te quiere tu amiga,
Claudia Corella

P.S. You have very pretty eyes!
